

God's Dream, One Family

The practical plan for world peace through the restoration of the traditional, biblical family.

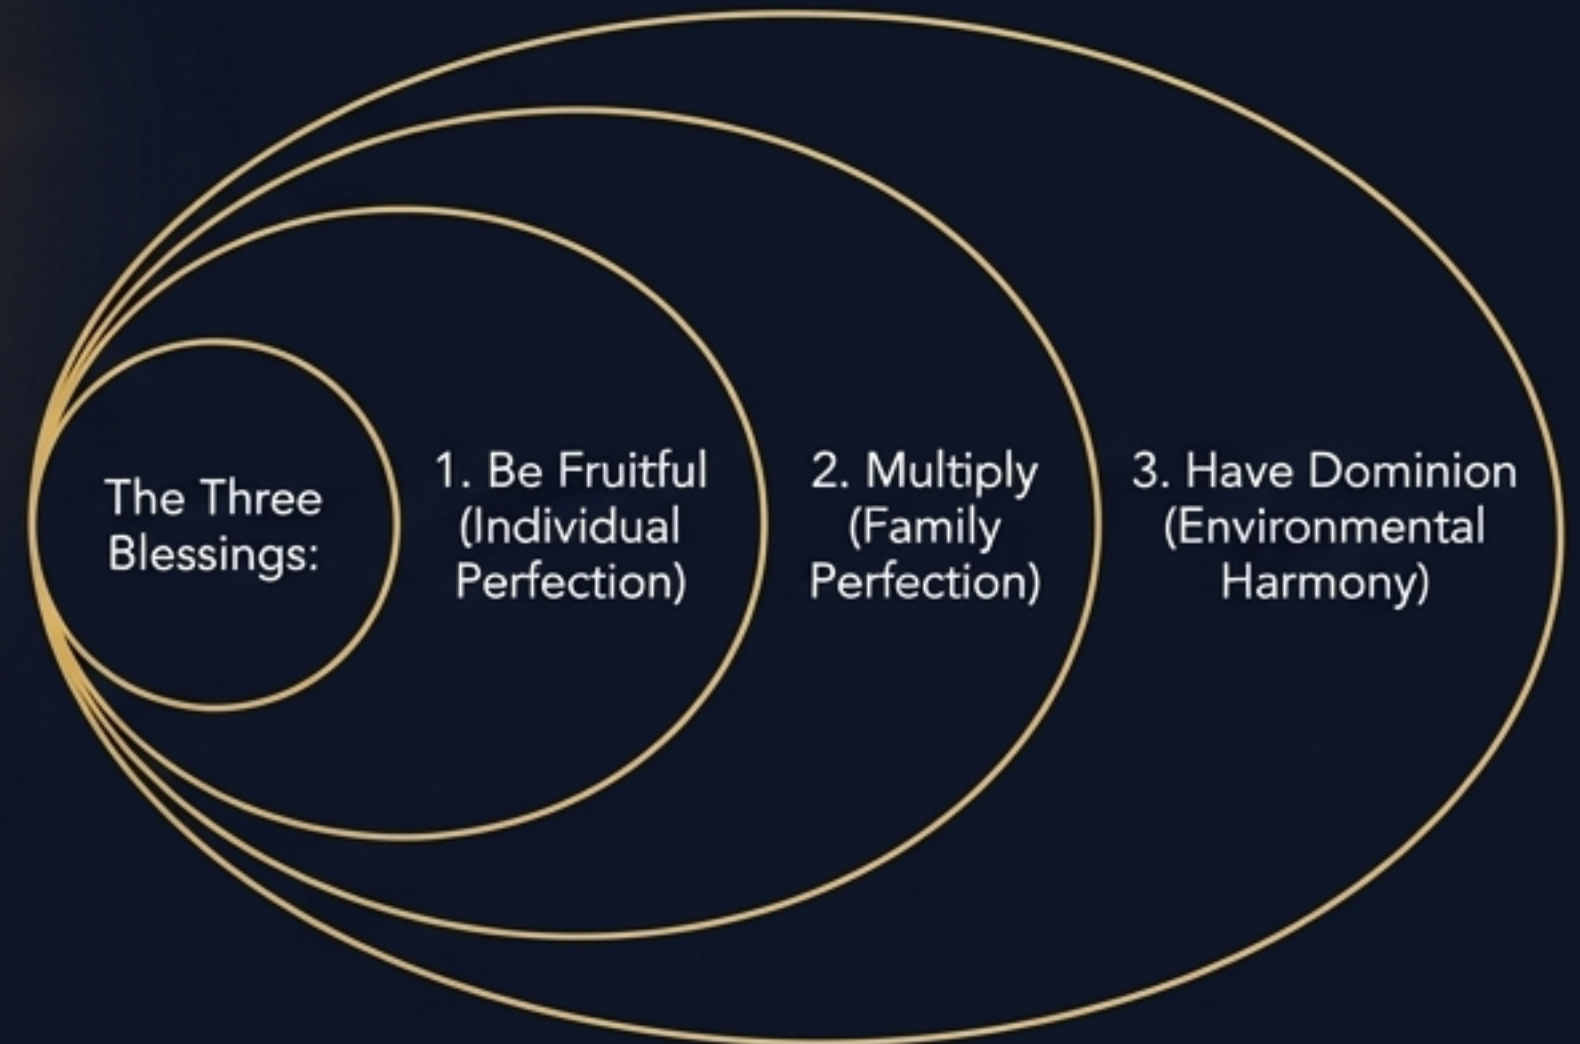

Peace transcends the power of politics and national diplomacy

- The fundamental motivation for the creation of the world was love.
- God's ultimate purpose is to experience joy through His children.
- True peace requires grounding ourselves spiritually and morally upon universal principles and the laws of Heaven.

The ultimate blueprint for human happiness

“And God blessed them, and God said to them, ‘Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it...” — Genesis 1:28

The First Blessing calls us to become true persons

Before peace can exist between nations or between a husband and wife, there must be absolute peace within the individual. God requires complete unity between our minds and bodies. We must win the internal war before we can fulfill our purpose.

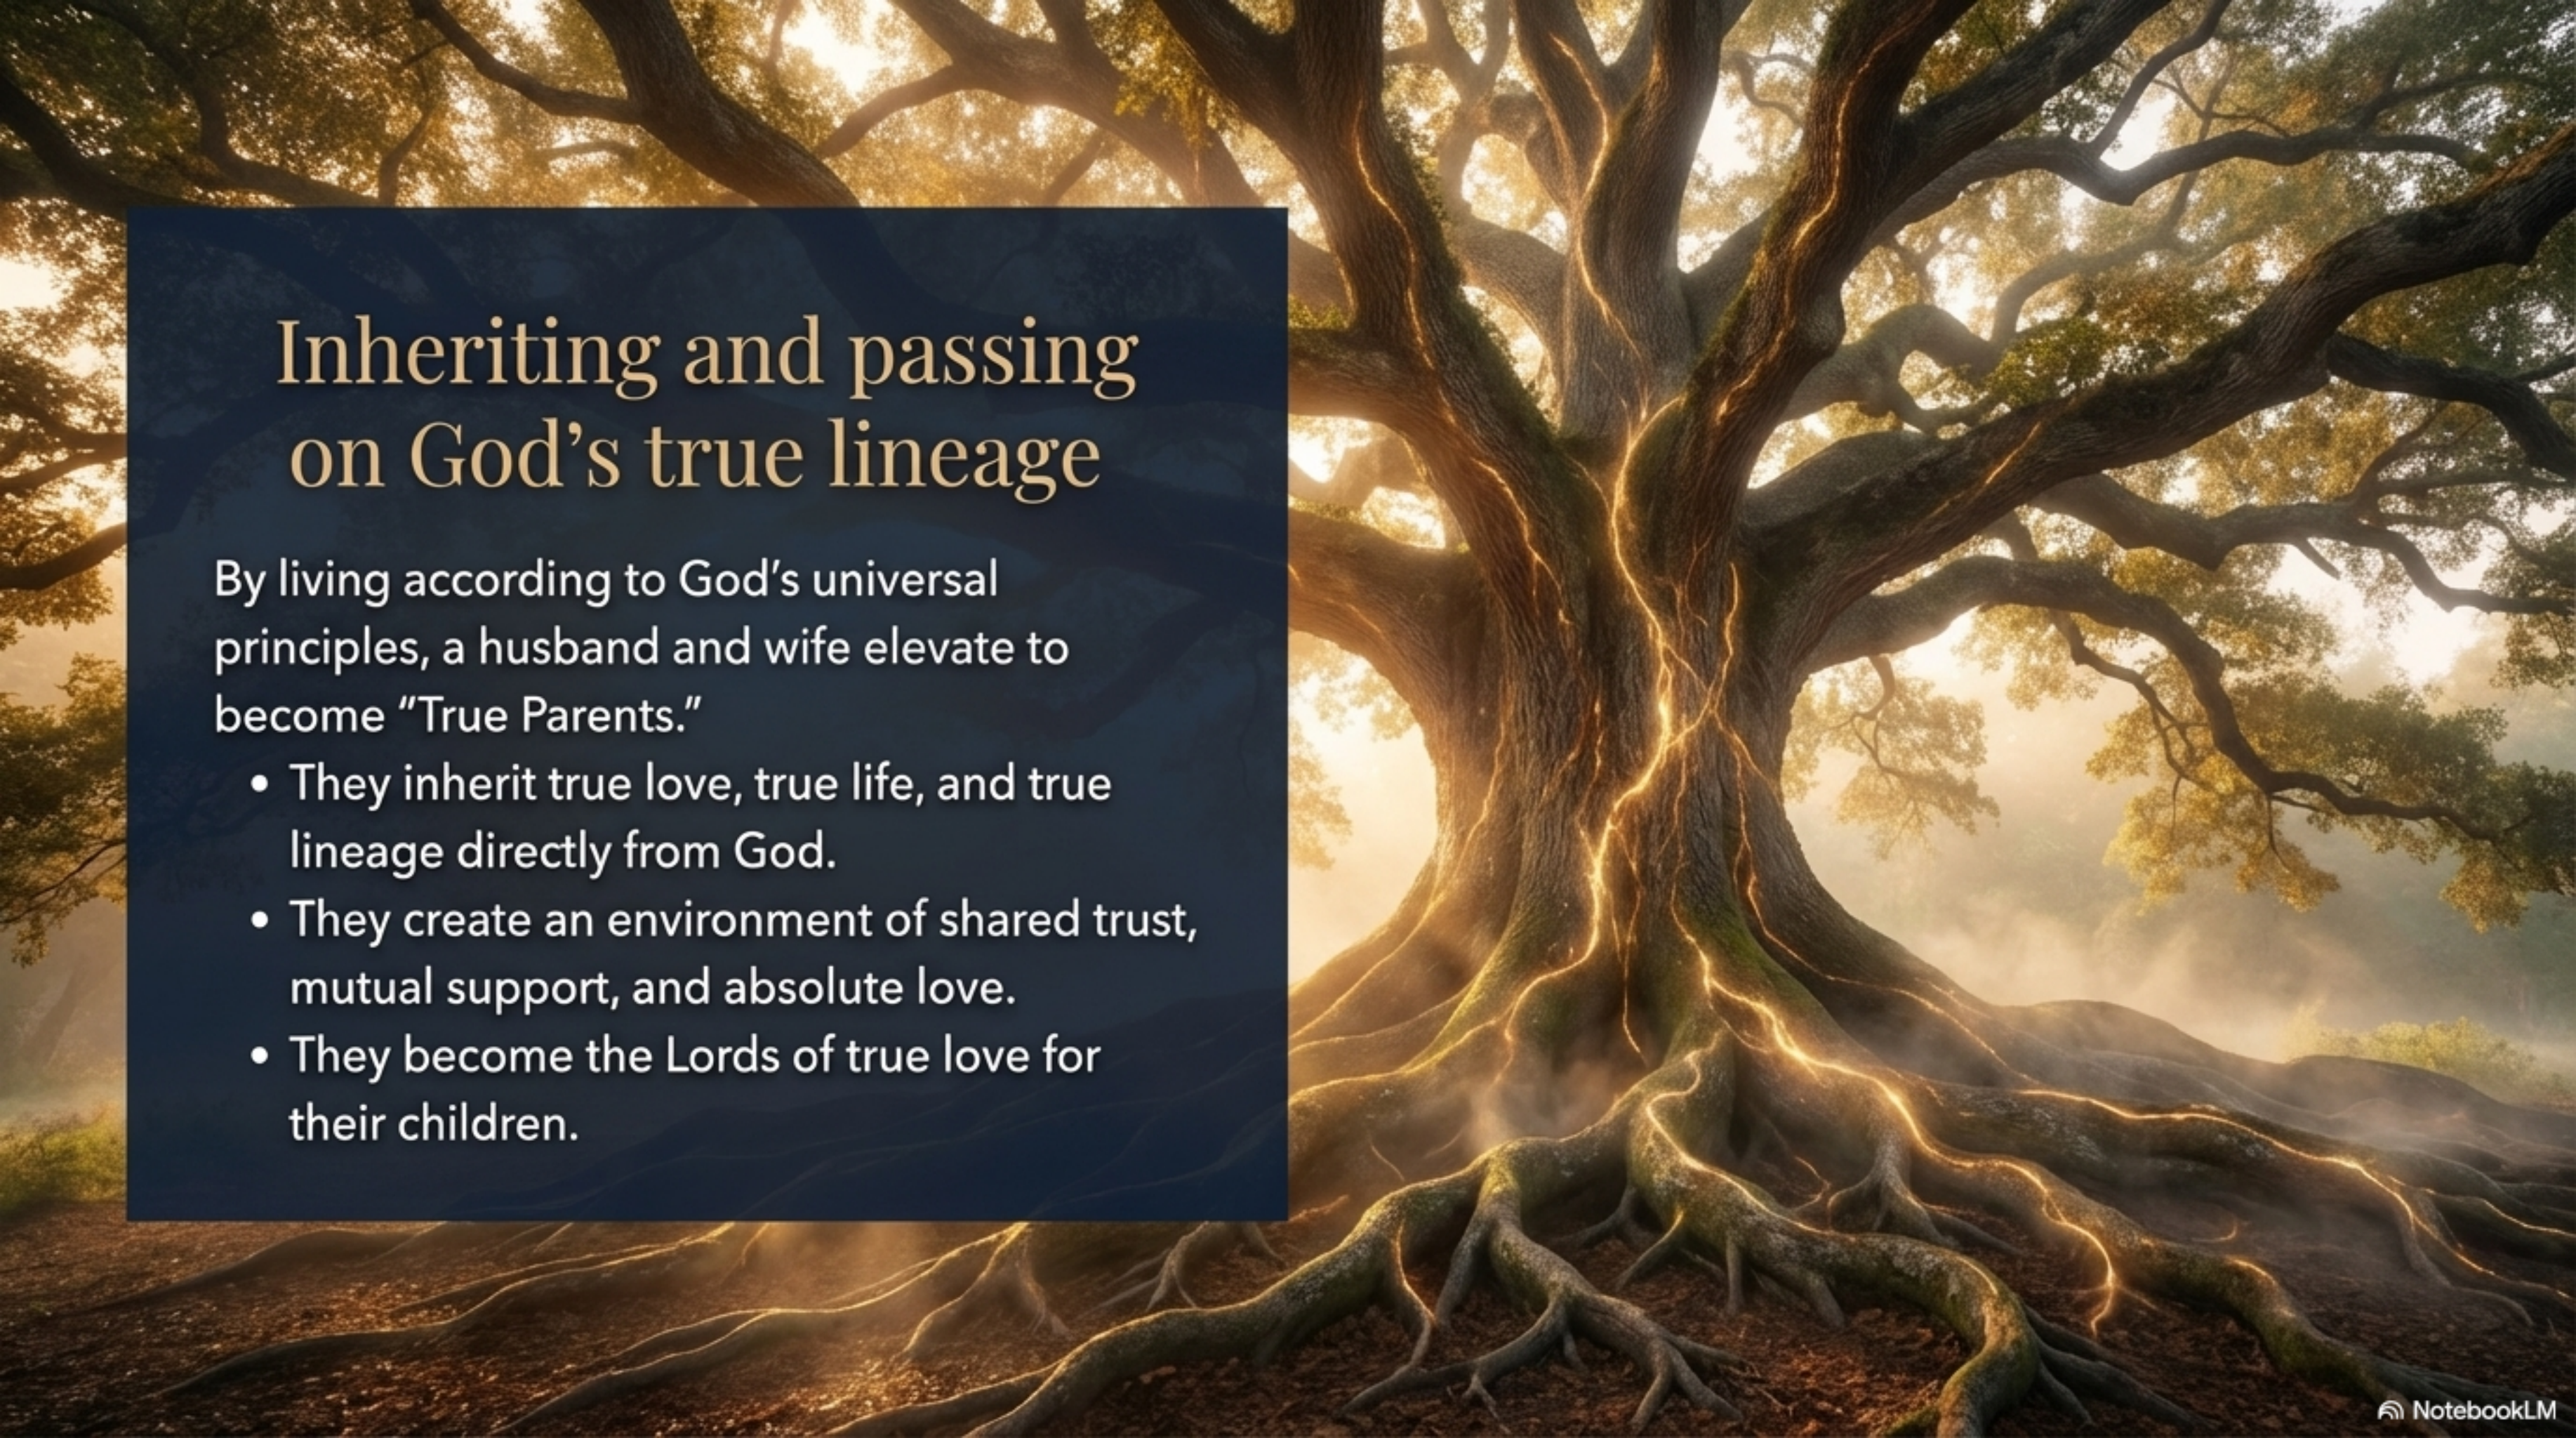

“Becoming a True Husband and Wife”

The Second Blessing—“multiply”—is God’s mandate for men and women to unite in a sacred, traditional bond.

This is not merely a cultural preference; it is the absolute spiritual and moral unity of man and woman, designed to accurately reflect God’s nature on earth.

Inheriting and passing on God's true lineage

By living according to God's universal principles, a husband and wife elevate to become "True Parents."

- They inherit true love, true life, and true lineage directly from God.
- They create an environment of shared trust, mutual support, and absolute love.
- They become the Lords of true love for their children.

The strength of the traditional biblical family

The 19th century witnessed incredible prosperity, largely because society was firmly firmly rooted in the biblical, patriarchal family structure. This traditional model is the intended, time-tested environment for raising true children and building a stable society.

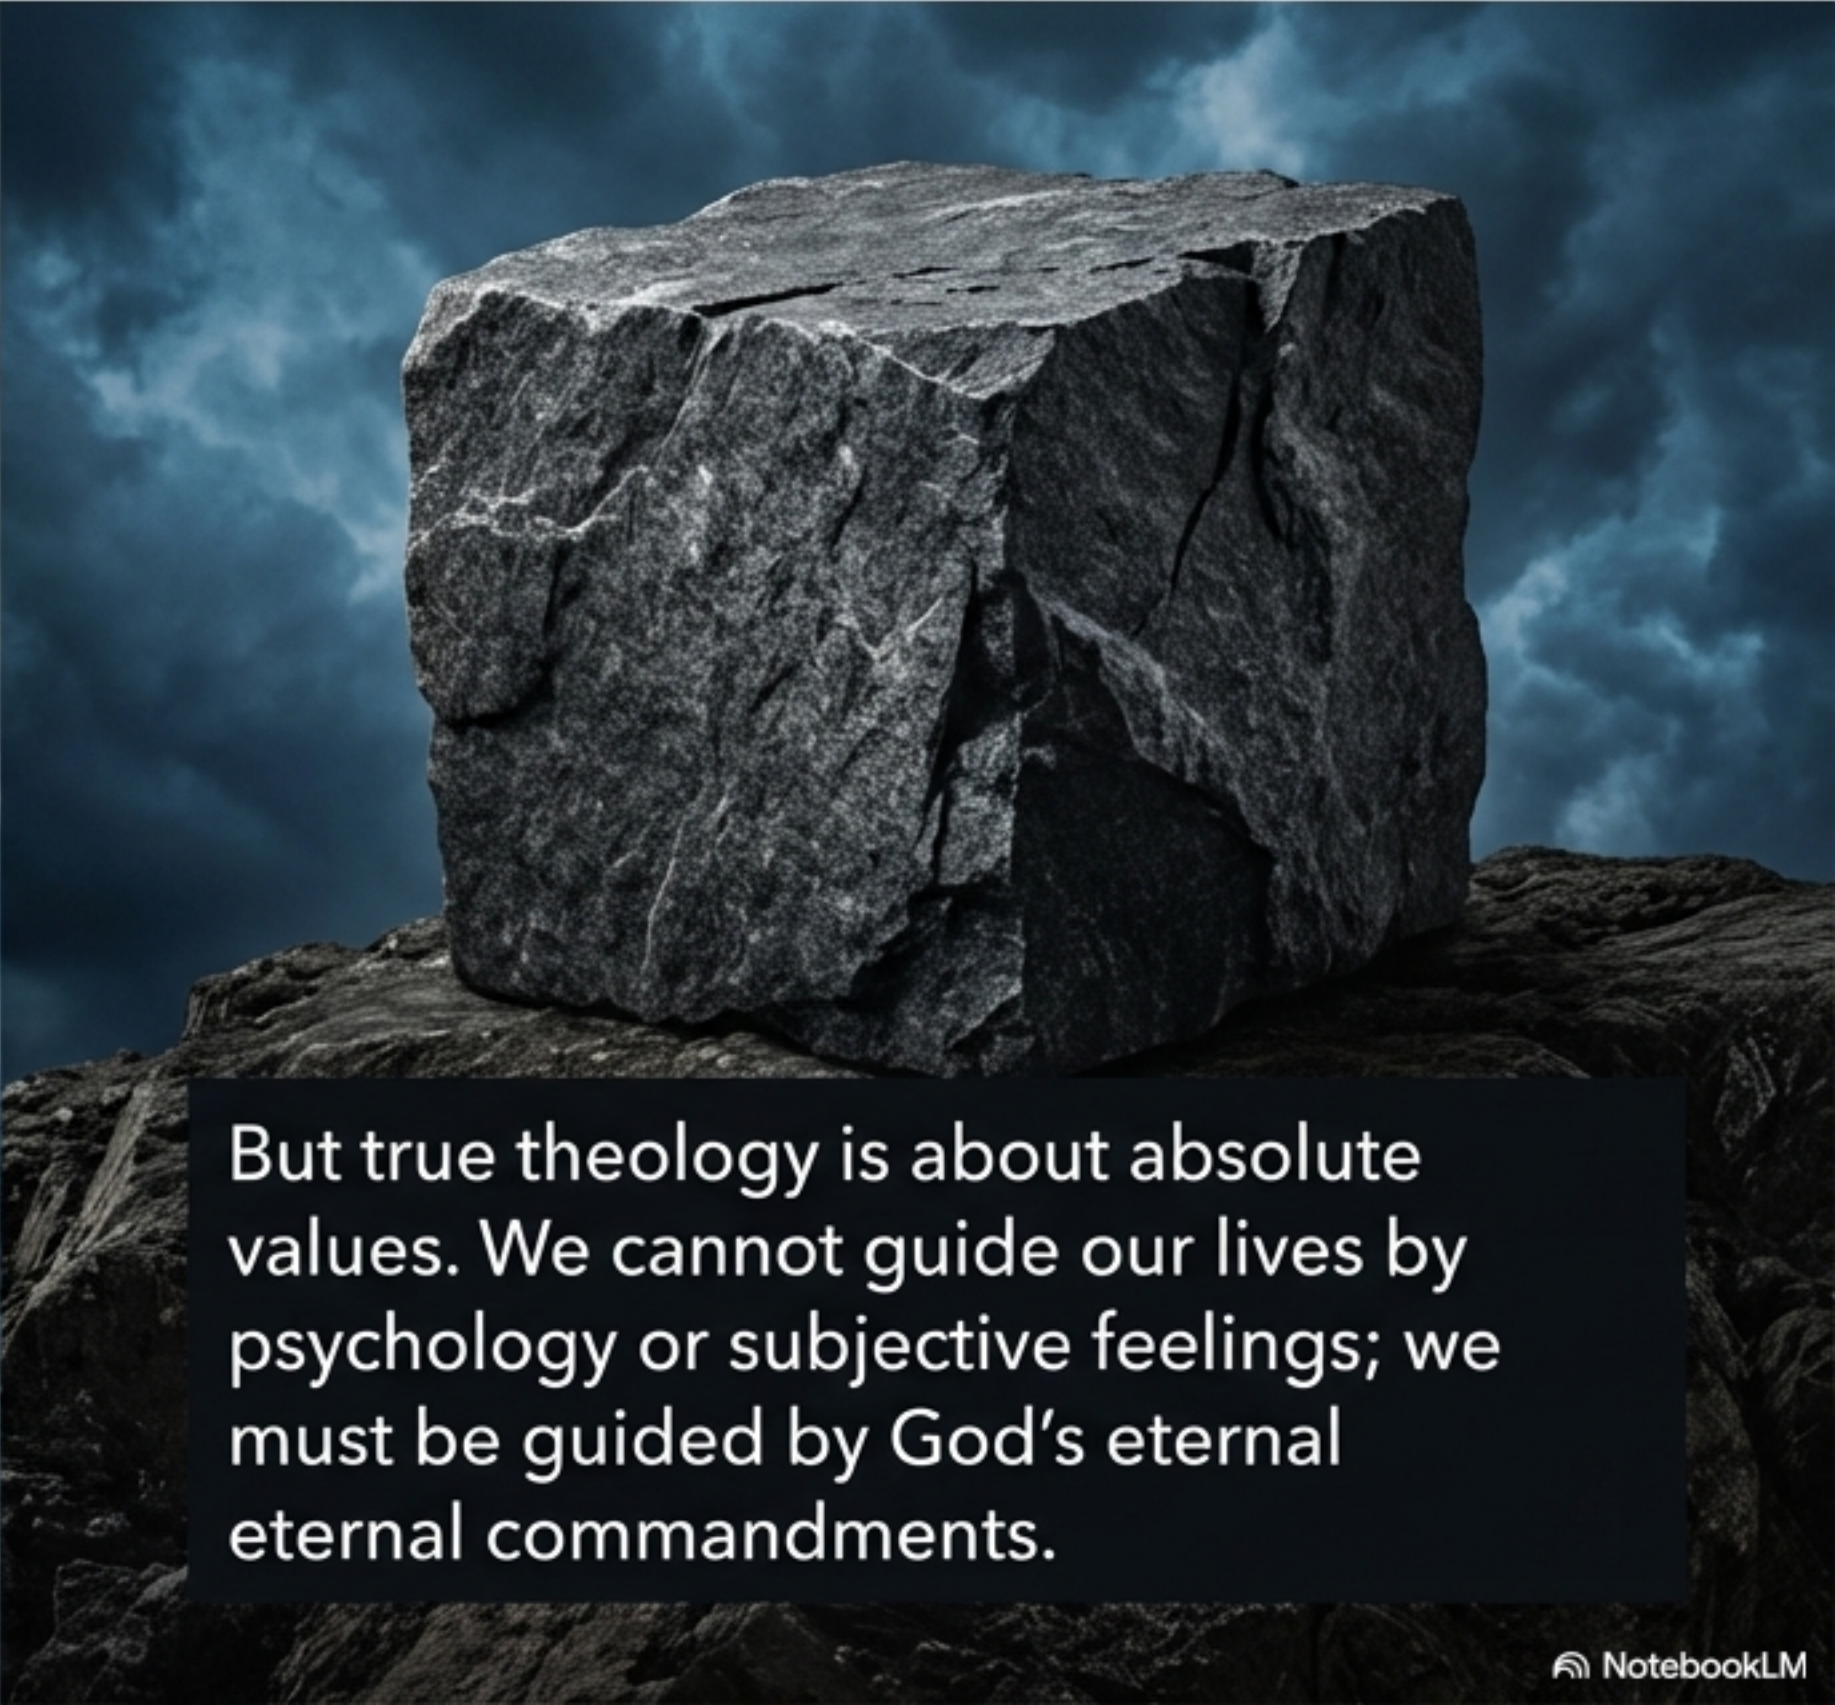

We are living through a definitive cultural war

The world is deeply divided in the Last Days. Satan's forces actively work to destroy the traditional biblical family through the promotion of socialism (big government) and feminism (the illusion of "free love"). This rebellion against common sense rules invites pain, dysfunction, and societal death.

The danger of replacing theology with psychology

The modern Left argues that certainty in absolute good and evil is merely an "emotional reality," rejecting absolute moral boundaries.

But true theology is about absolute values. We cannot guide our lives by psychology or subjective feelings; we must be guided by God's eternal eternal commandments.

A dramatic photograph of a lighthouse perched on a dark, rocky cliff. The lighthouse is illuminated from within, and a powerful, bright beam of light emanates from its lantern room, shining across the dark, choppy sea towards the right. The sky is filled with heavy, dark clouds, and the overall atmosphere is one of isolation and resilience.

Championing a Headwing Ideology

Unificationists must be the leading thinkers and cultural warriors.

- We stand against the Left's satanic values and the illusion of a world without absolutes.
- We correct the flaws of the Right to elevate society.
- We boldly offer clearly defined, intellectually satisfying rules for mankind to live by.

The revolution of character

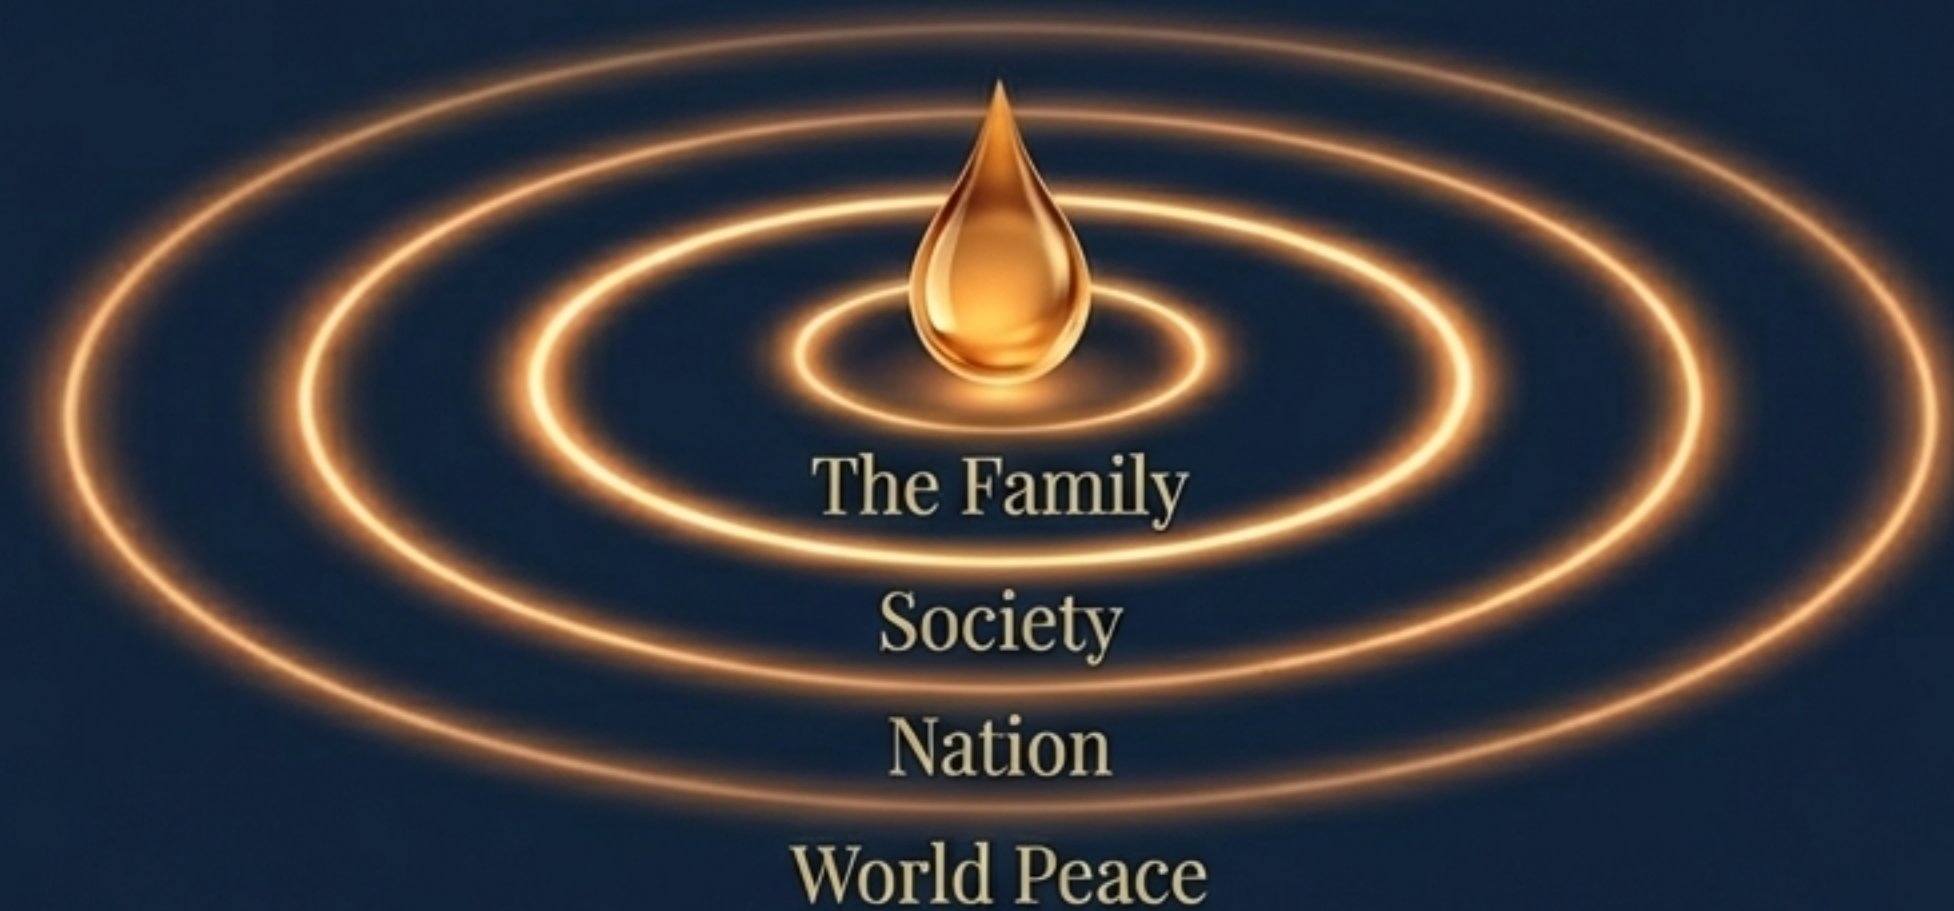

World restoration cannot happen through a human revolution; it requires a revolution of character.

We must transform into true people who resemble God's own character.

This means ending the battle of the sexes and committing to God's absolute design for traditional marriage.

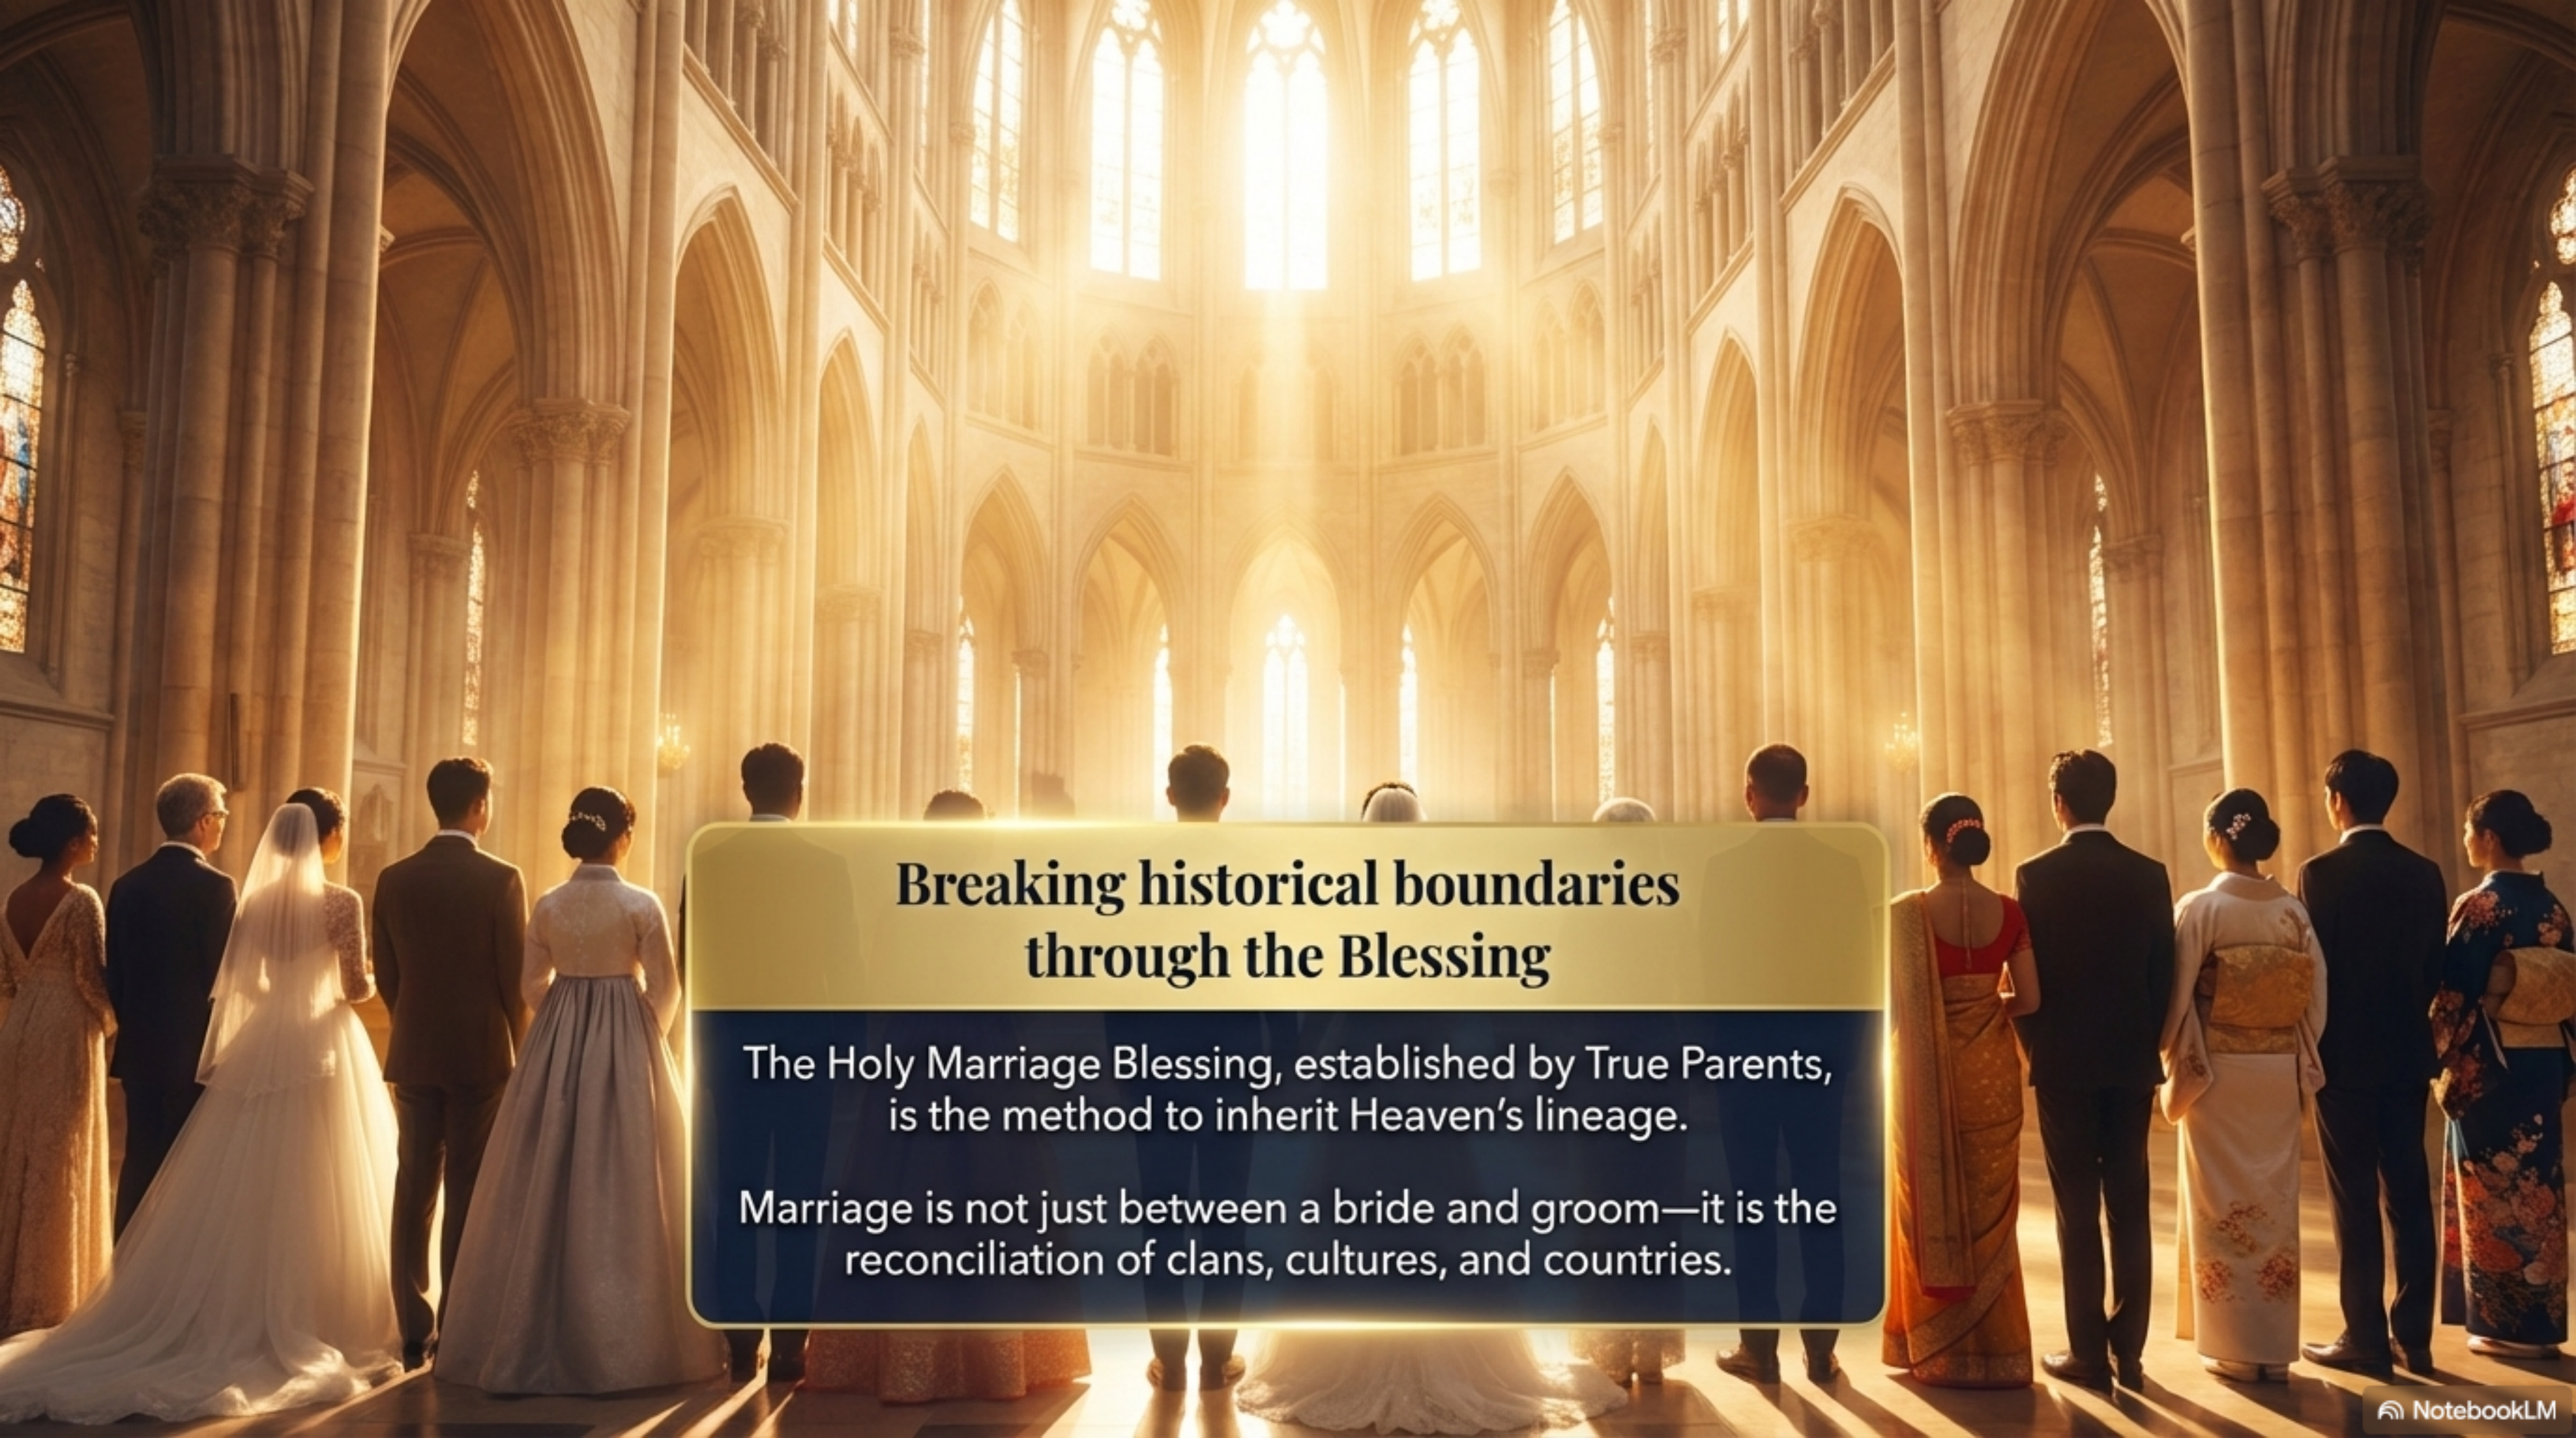

The starting point for bringing about peace is the family

"No matter how much politicians may put their heads together, they will not bring about peace.
Formidable military power will not bring peace."

Peaceful families create peaceful societies, which ultimately eliminates conflict among countries.

A photograph of a wedding ceremony taking place inside a large, ornate cathedral. The scene is filled with warm, golden light streaming through high, arched windows. In the foreground, several couples are standing in a line, facing away from the camera towards the altar. They are dressed in formal attire, including traditional white wedding dresses with long veils, dark suits, and traditional Japanese kimonos. The architecture features tall, slender columns and intricate Gothic-style arches. The overall atmosphere is solemn and majestic.

Breaking historical boundaries through the Blessing

The Holy Marriage Blessing, established by True Parents, is the method to inherit Heaven's lineage.

Marriage is not just between a bride and groom—it is the reconciliation of clans, cultures, and countries.

Overcoming resentment through true love

When a Korean and a Japanese marry, it forces reconciliation between two historically opposed countries.

When a white person and a black person marry, it forces reconciliation between races.

After a few generations of these blessed lineages, hostility disappears, and humanity becomes one family.

The nest where we live and learn to become one

The ideal family is the model for living together in peace.

It requires:

- A foundation of love and respect between parents and children.
- Absolute shared trust and true love between husband and wife.
- Mutual support among siblings.

Embracing groupism over individualism

We are not supposed to wake up and think about what we want to do. We must wake up and think about what God wants us to do.

We must focus on what is best for our families instead of what is best for ourselves. True fulfillment comes only through this selfless ideology.

Becoming saints built upon the Word

"After 1,000 years, only the Word shall remain."

To navigate the Last Days and overcome all barriers, we must study and embody the historical words of truth. The ideal sons and daughters maintain a proper, balanced relationship with God's Word and with each other.

The long-cherished human dream of an ideal world

This is not a mere philosophical exercise; it is a realistic goal we must realistically work toward. God's goal is a world without war—a utopia where everyone in authority is guided by divine principles, ending the battle of the sexes and internal conflicts forever.

Our primary mission is to create the ideal family

There has never yet been a perfect family to model ourselves after.
It is our responsibility to become True Parents.

By receiving the Holy Marriage Blessing and living by God's absolute values, your traditional marriage becomes the very foundation of the Kingdom of Heaven.
